PREAMBLE

The ethical practice of the health professions requires consistent and ongoing commitment to lifelong learning by all health practitioners, through a process of Continuous Professional Development (CPD). CPD assists health professionals to update and develop the knowledge, skills and ethical attitudes that underpin competent practice. This perspective protects the public interest and promotes the health of all members of the South African society.

Guided by the principle of compassion, health practitioners aspire to standards of excellence in health care provision and delivery. The Health Professions Act, 1974 (Act No. 56 of 1974) (as amended) endorses Continuing Professional Development (CPD) as the means for maintaining and updating professional competence, to ensure that the public interest is always promoted and protected, as well as ensuring the best possible health care service to the community. CPD should address the emerging health needs and be relevant to the health priorities of the country.

In the spirit of commitment to best practice, the desire to act and serve, the following Guidelines for Continuing Professional Development, through engagement with continuing education activities, is presented for all health practitioners who are registered with the Health Professions Council of South Africa. The hierarchy of activities detailed include traditional learning experiences such as attendance of conference presentations and workshops, as well as structured courses and quality assurance audits of practices or groups of professionals in their work environments. CPD providers are encouraged to offer learning activities in line with adult education principles and greater learner involvement, with the goal of not only acquiring new or updated knowledge, but also of improving competence and ultimately the performance of the health practitioner with an end benefit to the patient/ client.

The CPD system is based on trust. The HPCSA believes that health practitioners will commit themselves to meeting the requirements for continuing education in the belief that the practitioner and patient/ client will reap the benefits of lifelong learning.

PURPOSE OF THE DOCUMENT

The purpose of the guidelines is to advise health practitioners on the requirements for Continuing Professional Development (CPD) (see section 1.1). The guidelines also assist health practitioners by providing them with guidance on the processes to follow to comply with Continuing Professional Development (CPD). It further assists health practitioners with a varied list of activities to explore in order to remain compliant.

GLOSSARY

Accreditor - a group or institution that is appointed by a Professional Board once it has met the criteria set out by the HPCSA CPD Committee. The role of the Accreditor is to review and approve applications for the provision of CPD activities (within its profession's ambit) by organizations and individuals without accredited service provider status; to monitor these activities; and to revise continuing education units (CEUs) allocated in the event that the provider fails to comply with the rules and regulations of the CPD guidelines. Professional Boards may delegate their responsibility for accrediting service providers to Accreditors. The criteria and processes to be followed as well as the procedures for record keeping are contained in the Criteria and Guidelines for Accreditors document. Accreditors can also provide their own activities if they were approved as an accredited service provider.

Accredited Service Providers - profession specific higher education institutions and departments, professional associations or formally constituted professional interest groups who meet the specified criteria and have been accredited by the board and/ or its designated accreditor to present learning activities for Continuing Professional Development.

Attendance register - the record of attendees at the learning activity reflecting the names, the HPCSA registration numbers of those present and their signatures on completion of the activity. This register must be held by the presenting organisation or institution for three years following the activity; the original register may be audited by the HPCSA as part of compliance checks.

Compliance checks - the randomly selected sample of health practitioners from every register every two months for an audit, for the purpose of checking compliance. Health practitioners should submit the information requested to the CPD section within 21 days on receipt of notification of being selected for an audit.

Continuing Education Units (CEUs) - the value attached to a learning activity for Continuing Professional Development.

Continuing Professional Development - the continuing education and training referred to in Section 26 of the Health Professions Act, 1974 (Act No. 56 of 1974).

CPD Section - the CPD, Registrations, Licensure and Document Management Department of the HPCSA, which administers and monitors the CPD processes on behalf of the CPD Committee of Council.

Criteria and Guidelines for Service Providers – they provide details on the criteria for and requirements of Service Providers; the nature of the learning activities and the CEUs at each level of the hierarchy; the process to be followed to publicise, present and record the activities.

Deferment - a formal permission sought by a health practitioner and granted by the HPCSA CPD Committee to suspend and/ or postpone the CPD requirements for a period of time. There are conditions for re-entry into practice, which are clearly stipulated for each profession.

Ethics, Human Rights and Health Law is - an understanding of the bioethical principles that determine how health practitioners perform research and interact with patients/ clients and society as described in Chapter 1 and 2 of the Constitution of South Africa, 1996 (As adopted on 8 May 1996 and amended on 11 October 1996 by the Constitutional Assembly). Health care is a constantly advancing field and with these advances, conflicts often arise within the arenas of politics, law, religion, philosophy and economics. An understanding of bioethics helps us to recognise, admit and sometimes resolve these conflicts.

Human rights - the rights of individuals enshrined in the Bill of Rights. All individuals must be treated in a fair and equal manner, taking into consideration their fundamental freedom and human dignity.

HPCSA CPD Committee, which is accountable to Council - it comprises of representatives from each professional board. Together with the professional boards, the Committee is tasked with developing policy proposals for Continuing Professional Development and monitoring adherence to policy on behalf of the Council.

Health law - the Law governing the relationship between providers and users of healthcare. The Common Law and Statute Law governing the field of health care has to conform to the norms, values and standards of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa.”

HPCSA Individual CPD Activity Record (Form CPD IAR 1) - the document held by individual health practitioners as a record of every learning activity attended or completed. The Attendance Certificates for each event or series of events should accompany it. For Level 2 qualifications, a certified copy of the qualification is required. The record must be regularly updated and kept current. In the event that a health practitioner's name is drawn in the compliance check, the Individual CPD Activity Record (Form CPD IAR 1) for the previous two years, together with the attendance certificates and copies of qualifications that may have been obtained during that period, must be sent to the CPD Section of Council within 21 days on receipt of notification requiring such information.

A health practitioner is required to engage in CPD and accumulate CEUs per twelve-month period of which a specific number of CEUs should be for ethics, human rights and health law (see table below). All CEUs are valid for a period of 24 months from the date that the activity took place/ended.

Health practitioners who are registered in two different professions or categories must meet the requirements of the boards that are applicable. Health practitioners registered in more than one category within the same professional board should accrue thirty CEUs per profession with the five CEUs for ethics, human rights and health law per twelve-month period applicable to both professions.

Practitioners may obtain their units within their own discipline, speciality or sub-speciality or within another relevant discipline, speciality or sub-speciality.

Learning activity/ies - the CPD activities for which Continuing Education Units are obtained. There are two levels of activities: those with non-measurable outcomes; those with measurable outcomes that do not necessarily constitute a full year of earned CEUs (including education, training, research and publications; and those associated with formally structured learning programmes.

Learning Portfolio (Level 2 Activity) - the record of a health practitioner's learning and self-development over time, reflecting the health practitioner's growth and improved practice.

National Accreditors Forum - the body which has representatives from among the Accreditors, and which meets regularly to deliberate on policy and issues of common concern. Feedback is provided to the HPCSA CPD Committee.

Non-compliance - failure of an individual to annually obtain thirty CEUs (or the required CEUs for their register as determined by their professional board), which include at least five CEUs for Ethics,

Human Rights or Health Law. There are various penalties, which will be applied in the event of non-compliance, by individual professional boards in collaboration with the HPCSA CPD Committee.

Practice Audit - it involves a health practitioner undertaking a systematic review of aspects of patient care and comparing these against explicit criteria.

Recognition of CEUs - it refers to the fact that if a CPD activity has been accredited by an Accreditor for a specific Professional Board, all health care professionals may attend that activity if it is relevant to their specific scope of practice. Health practitioners will therefore not need to apply for that activity to be re-accredited by their own Professional Board in order to claim the CEUs accrued for attending that activity.

Restoration after erasure - it occurs once the conditions for restoration to the register have been met. The conditions vary, and depend upon the duration for which the health practitioner has been erased from the register, and the requirements of the relevant Professional Board.

Service Providers - individuals/ institutions/ organisations/ societies who have to submit each of their learning activities to an accreditor for review and accreditation prior to presenting the CPD activity.

Shelf life - the period the CEUs will be valid for, which is 24 months from the date that the activity took place or ended, thus the CEUs have a 'shelf life' of 24 months.

1 ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

There are a number of stakeholders involved in the process of CPD. This section describes the roles and responsibilities of various stakeholders in the CPD process including health practitioners.

1.1 HEALTH PRACTITIONER

The purpose of CPD is to assist health practitioners to maintain and acquire new and updated levels of knowledge, skills and ethical attitudes that will be of measurable benefit in professional practice. The aim is to enhance and promote professional integrity. The beneficiary will ultimately be the patient/ client. All registered health practitioners are required to complete a series of accredited continuing education activities each year. The activities are clustered together to represent a hierarchy of learning. Health practitioners may select activities at any level of learning that meet their particular needs and the demands of their practice environments.

Any health practitioner who registers for the first time as a health care professional after 1st January of a particular year will commence with his or her CPD programme immediately. When health practitioners who are actively practising in South Africa attend an accredited professional or academic meeting or activity abroad, it will be recognised for CPD purposes (see section 1). An Accreditor in South Africa should accredit the activity attended internationally if the activity is not accredited/ recognised for CEUs equivalent in the country where it was held.

Any health practitioner who is registered in a non-clinical category must adhere with regulations relating to the Registration of Health Practitioners Restricted to Non-clinical Practice [R.223 of 29 February 2008 (see section 8)].

1.1.1 Required Continuing Education Units (CEUs) per professional category

“Continuing education units” means the value attached to a learning activity for continuing professional development.

A health practitioner is required to engage in CPD and accumulate CEUs per twelve-month period of which a specific number of CEUs should be for ethics, human rights and health law (see table below). All CEUs are valid for a period of 24 months from the date that the activity took place/ended. CEUs not to be allocated retrospective for the period for which the health practitioner is audited.

Practitioners may obtain their units within their own discipline, speciality or sub-speciality or within another relevant discipline, speciality or sub-speciality that is relevant to their own professional practice.

1.1.2 Certificate of Attendance

All health practitioners shall ensure that they are in possession of a certificate of attendance for every activity they have attended. They shall keep these for at least two years so that their certificates will be available if required for a random compliance check.

1.1.3 CPD Activity Record

Every health practitioner shall maintain a record of their own learning activities and document these on an official HPCSA Individual CPD Activity Record (Form CPD 1 IAR) which includes the following:

- the name and registration number of the health practitioner;
- the name and number of the Accredited Service Provider or individual activity accreditation number;
- the topic of the activity (ethics, human rights and medical law must be specified separately);
- the number of CEUs; and
- the attendance/ completion date.

This record is the only data required of individual health practitioners. It should be duly completed so that it accurately reflects a health practitioner's CPD activities for the previous 24 months. This record needs to be submitted should the health practitioner be selected randomly for an audit.

1.1.4 Audit of Health Practitioners

An individual drawn in the audit may submit the data and copies of CPD certificates in one of the following three ways:

- a paper copy of the Excel spreadsheet record of his/ her Individual CPD Activity Record (submitted by post to the CPD Section at HPCSA at PO Box 205, PRETORIA, 0001);
- an electronic copy of the Excel spreadsheet record of his/ her Individual CPD Activity Record (Form CPD 1 IAR) (submitted electronically to the CPD Section at HPCSA at cpd@hpcsa.co.za); An electronic copy of the Excel spreadsheet that has been captured and held by arrangement between the health practitioner and a relevant individual or business (submitted electronically to the CPD Section at HPCSA at cpd@hpcsa.co.za); or
- facsimile (012) 328 - 5120

Health practitioners who are non-compliant or who do not submit their CPD records will be given a six months' extension.

The HPCSA CPD System will be administered and monitored by the Council. The HPCSA will randomly select individual health practitioners for compliance checks every two months. The sample size will depend on the number of health practitioners on the register. Health practitioners are obliged to submit the required documents within 21 working days on receipt of notification of being selected. The results of the compliance check will be submitted to the HPCSA CPD Committee as well as to the relevant professional boards for their further action, if any.

1.1.5 Requirements for practitioners registered in different boards

Health practitioners who are registered in two different professions or categories must meet the requirements of the boards that are applicable. Health practitioners registered in more than one category within the same professional board should accrue thirty CEUs per profession with the five CEUs for ethics, human rights or health law per twelve-month period applicable to both professions.

1.1.6 Cross Recognition of CEUs

If a CPD activity has been accredited by an Accreditor for a specific professional board, all health care professionals may attend that activity if it is relevant to their specific scope of practice. Health practitioners will therefore not need to apply for that activity to be re-accredited by their own professional board in order to claim the CEUs accrued for attending that activity already in the document at the definitions under Recognition.

1.1.7 CEUs obtained internationally

When health practitioners who are actively practising in South Africa attend an accredited professional or academic meeting or activity internationally, it will be recognised for CPD purposes. An accreditor in South Africa should accredit the activity attended internationally if not accredited/recognised for CEUs equivalent in the country where it was held.

2 LEARNING ACTIVITIES

There are three levels of activities, those with non-measurable outcomes, those with outcomes that do not necessarily constitute a full year of earned CEUs, and those associated with formally structured learning programmes. A health practitioner may obtain CEUs at any level depending on personal circumstances and individual learning needs.

2.1 Level 1

2.1.1 Once-off activities

These are once-off activities (not presented on a continuous basis). The outcome of activities can be measured using either qualitative and quantitative methods. CEUs are allocated according to time, one CEU per hour to a maximum of eight CEUs per day. Presenters of such activities can be allocated double CEUs.

Presenters / co-presenters can only claim once for CEUs if the same activity is presented more than once.

These activities include:

- (a) breakfast meetings or presentations;
- (b) formally arranged hospital or inter-departmental meetings or updates;
- (c) case study discussions;
- (d) formally organised special purpose teaching/ learning ward rounds (not including routine service ward rounds);
- (e) formally organised special purpose lectures that are not part of a business meeting;

This level comprises structured learning, i.e. a formal programme that is planned and offered by an accredited training institution, evaluated by an accredited assessor and has a measurable outcome.

Activities include:

No prior approval by an accreditor necessary

- (a) postgraduate degrees, diplomas and certificates that are recognised as additional qualifications by the relevant professional board – at the end of each year of study (not exceeding the normal duration of the degree); thirty CEUs may be claimed upon submitting an academic report on progress, and additional thirty CEUs may be claimed on successful completion of the qualification;

Prior approval by an accreditor necessary

- (b) short courses with a minimum of 25 hours with additional clinical hands-on training, plus a formal assessment of the outcome – successful completion of an activity at this level will earn thirty CEUs; and
- (c) short courses less than 25 hours, with a measurable outcome (1 CEU per hour).

Other Activities:

Guidelines for the latter two activities are available on the HPCSA website. Health practitioners will need to submit documentation/ portfolios to an accreditor to obtain the thirty CEUs for these activities.

- holding a portfolio on the professional body's executive or council structure;
- presentations and publications to the public; and
- Mandatory Health and Safety Training at laboratories, which is part of the curriculum (specifically applies to Medical Technology).

Meetings arranged by pharmaceutical companies and manufacturers or importers of products and technical devices (including assistive device technology) or their representatives purely for the purpose of marketing and/ or promoting their products are not eligible for accreditation. Activities for the purpose of training in the use of company products or technological devices may be presented by arrangement with an accreditor or accredited service provider.

4 NON-COMPLIANCE

4.1 Health practitioners who are not compliant or have requested an extension

The CPD Section will on receipt of a non-compliant audit or request for extension afford the health practitioner a six months' extension in which they can attempt to be compliant. After the period of six months, if still not compliant, the names of bona fide non-compliant health practitioners will be submitted to the relevant professional boards, which might take any of the following actions:

- changing the category of registration to supervised practice; until proof of compliance with the CPD requirements are submitted;
- successfully passing a Board Examination;
- suspension from the register until submission of proof of compliance with the CPD requirements is submitted; or
- any other resolution by the relevant professional board.

4.2 Health practitioners who do not submit their portfolios

The CPD Section will afford the health practitioner a six months' extension. After the period of six months, if the health practitioners have still not submitted their portfolios, they will be seen to be non-compliant with the requirements. Their names will be submitted to the relevant professional boards and any action as described in 5.1 could be taken.

5 DEFERMENT

Health practitioners may apply for deferment of CPD and the HPCSA CPD Committee will review such applications individually on an ad hoc basis. The application should be strongly motivated with appropriate evidence/ documentation.

Deferment may be granted in the case of:

- a) a health practitioner who is outside South Africa for a period of time exceeding twelve months and is not practising his/ her profession; and
- b) a health practitioner who is outside of South Africa and practising in a country where there is no access to CPD activities.

Deferment may be granted for a maximum period of three years. Deferment will not be granted for a period of less than twelve months (in view of the fact that a professional may collect CEUs in a following year).

Any health practitioner mentioned in the above paragraphs wishing to re-enter the system after deferment will be subject to the following conditions:

- if deferment was granted for more than twelve months but less than two years, proof of full employment in the profession during that time should be submitted and the health practitioner will, on review by the HPCSA CPD Committee, be allowed to recommence the CPD year immediately;
- if deferment was granted for more than two years but less than three years, the health practitioner must submit proof of his/ her employment during that time and the health practitioner will, on the recommendation of the HPCSA CPD Committee, be required to complete a period of supervised practice as determined by the professional board in his/ her area of practice, and will recommence the CPD year immediately;

- if deferment was granted for longer than twelve months and the health practitioner did not practice his/ her profession during the deferment period, he/she will be required to complete a period of supervised practice as determined by the professional board in his/ her area of practice; or
- if deferment was granted because the health practitioner was engaged in formal education and training for an additional qualification, CEUs will not be allocated for obtaining the said additional qualification. Proof of the additional qualification must be supplied to the CPD Section and the health practitioner will recommence the CPD year immediately.

6 HEALTH PRACTITIONERS ABROAD

Health practitioners who are practising abroad in countries where a continuing professional development system is in place should comply with the requirements in that country. They should retain documentary proof of attendance at CPD activities for submission in the event of being drawn in the sample audit. For re-registration purposes, documentary proof of compliance must be submitted for continuing professional development purposes in South Africa. This proof may be in the form of a letter from the accrediting authority in the country concerned.

7 RETIREMENT

Retired health practitioners who are active on the register should be compliant with CPD.

8 NON-CLINICAL REGISTER

Request for placement on the non-clinical register will only be considered with the relevant application form and Affidavit.

9 COMMUNITY SERVICE

Health practitioners in community service do not have to comply with CPD during community service but are encouraged to attend and may accrue CEUs, which will be to their credit for the full 24 months from date of accrual.

ANNEXURE A: Journal, Articles and Online Activities

3. Pass mark

The mark of 70% is required for the award of MCQs based points.

4. Criteria of content

- clear and concise, reflecting understanding;
- each MCQ question must contain a minimum of three options, and may be of the 'single-correct answer' or 'single-best' formats;
- all the questions in the MCQs cannot be true/ false – maximum 20%; and
- should contain no commercial product promotion and/ or satire.

5. Online CPD activities

Online CPD activities that can be accredited include Level 1 - 2 as per CPD Guidelines.

6. Other activities held online include but are not limited to:

- workshops;
- webinars and lectures;
- profession related courses; as well as
- electronic journals' articles with measurable outcomes.

7. Provisions regarding the accreditation of online CPD activities

- Providers have to substantiate the number of hours and CEUs that they are applying for and provide proof of methods of assessment.
- Providers have to describe to the satisfaction of the accreditors the technologies to be employed.
- The accreditation is provided on the time allocations substantiated by the provider and not in accordance with the time spent by a specific participant – i.e. if according to the provider it will take one hour to complete a questionnaire/ module, the participant cannot request additional points for time spent longer than one hour.
- Activities online for longer than three hours are allocated points according to time – i.e. one CEU per hour, to a maximum of six CEUs per day (clinical content). At least one assessment comprising of MCQs should be completed after six hours of activity and should be completed with a mark of 70% in order to claim CPD accreditation.
