c. Additional Qualifications/Categories

Radiographers normally qualify in the category "diagnosis". If another qualification (e.g.) BTech or Honours Degree in "diagnosis" is obtained in addition to the initial qualification in "diagnosis", the BTech or Honours Degree or other qualification is registered as an additional qualification (form 19) or Notarised copy of degree. The same rule would apply for any other discipline, category, or field namely that the qualification is registered as an additional qualification, if the initial Degree or Diploma was obtained in that discipline (form 19). If another qualification (e.g.) BTech or Honours Degree in another field, discipline, or category "nuclear medicine, therapy or ultrasound" is obtained in addition to the initial basic qualification in "Diagnosis" this qualification is reflected as an additional category only. If a further qualification in another discipline is obtained in addition to the initial basic qualification as well as a registered additional qualification as outlined above, such qualification is registered as an additional qualification.
